U.S. MAGISTRATE JUDGE

19 ¹Mr. Parsons, as good cause shown, submits that he has endured a series of foot 20 injuries, and as a diabetic, he has a history of such injuries becoming infected and posing 21 further dire risks to his health. These injuries and the treatment of the injuries has caused his 22 absence from timely attending to the Response to Defendant's Motion and Defendant's 23 discovery requests.

24 On Friday, March 22, 2019, upon presenting with a recurring injury already the subject 25 of care, treatment, and absence from the office, the wound care physician attending to Mr.
26 Parsons immediately sent him to the hospital. Mr. Parsons was discharged late Monday, 27 March 25, 2019. However Friday, March 29, 2019, Mr. Parsons learned from his orthopedist that he must submit to surgery, Thursday, April 4, 2019 to deal with the MRSA-infection and restructuring of the wound. In total, Mr. Parsons has been on medication and doctors' orders to stay off of his feet and not undertake office work since the first recurrence of his injuries over three (3) weeks ago. In that time, Mr. Parsons has been in the office only sporadically for less that two (2) days.
